

“Alaba a Dios” (Praise God)

God does not reject prayer; prayer is sustenance.
I've never seen the righteous without answers or stay in suffering.

It's enough just to wait what God is going to do.
When He raises up His hands, it's time to overcome.

So praise, just praise...if you're crying, praise...
In the trial, praise...if you are suffering, praise...
It doesn't matter, praise; He will hear the praises.

God goes in front opening the ways, breaking chains, taking out thorns...

He sends His angels to fight with you.

He opens doors that no one can close.

He works with those who trust in Him.

He walks with you night and day.

Raise up your hands...Your victory has arrived.

Start to sing and praise God...

People need to understand what God is speaking.
When He is silent, it's because He's working.
