

He Peleado la Batalla, Señor (I Have Fought the Battle, Lord)

I want to serve the Lord
For He promises to take me

Because I know He can save me
Where I can always see Him

I have fought the battle, Lord
And I have kept the faith

I will say at the end of my race
I am just waiting for You to come take me

With those who have no faith
For having been born of God,

I will have to fight in the world
I do not want to depart from His love

Everything that I will have to suffer
With the glory that Christ upon coming

Cannot compare
Will have to give His people

The crown of righteousness is already
Prepared for those who fight to the end
The Lord and Just Judge will give it
On the day that He will have to come
